CYPHER Learning integration options

Visibility into your organization's overall skills inventory and level of employee engagement and development is critical for success and growth. It's also a key priority for supervisors and the HR team. In today's remote and hybrid work learning environments, integration is critical to building competency, improving productivity, and ensuring that employees are improving their skill sets.

However, simple workflow integrations like connecting L&D and HR systems that foster bi-directional communication, sync employee progress to their professional development path, and granularly track success metrics are often made difficult because legacy LMS technologies weren't designed to enable this degree of integration interconnectivity without a huge investment of time and money on the part of the customer.

Supporting a variety of integration options based on unique customer requirements, CYPHER Learning enables organizations to seamlessly and comprehensively use the CYPHER modern learning platform with thousands of applications and services using standard and workflow integrations.
